

ENGLISH

Wednesday 15th July

LI: To identify and use subordinating conjunctions

An adverb is a word that describes a verb.

It tells us where/when/how something happens.

He sat down quietly.

Next, she poured the water into the bowl.

Fronted Adverbials

A fronted adverbial is an adverb placed at the start of the sentence.

Earlier today, I ate my breakfast.

Panting heavily, I ran to the station.

In the distance, she waited patiently.

Fronted Adverbials

Adverbial of time

Adverbial of manner

Adverbial of place

Identify

Adverbial of time

Adverbial of manner

Adverbial of place

Draw this table

Time	Manner	Place

Identify

After a while, she went back home.

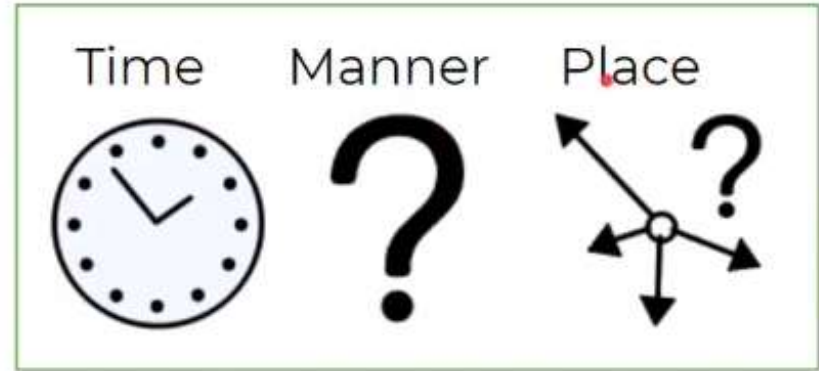

Carefully, she poured the milk.

Somewhere near here, the girl is playing football.

Last year, he joined a new school.

As quietly as a mouse, she crept up the stairs.

North of here, you'll find a small town.

Answer:

Let's correct

Time	Manner	Place
After a while, she went back home. Last year, he joined a new school.	Carefully, she poured the milk. As quietly as a mouse, she crept up the stairs.	Somewhere near here, the girl is playing football. North of here, you'll find a small town.

Time 	Manner 	Place
In the morning, After a while, Just then, Last month, Yesterday, As soon as she could,	Silently, As quick as a flash, Without a sound, Without warning, As fast as she/he could,	Back at the house, Nearby, Far away, Wherever they went, Somewhere near here,

Can you choose a fronted adverbial to add to the beginning of each sentence? You can use the options on your worksheet.

_____, he left the room.

_____, they played together.

_____, we celebrated her birthday.

Can you write a sentence starting with a fronted adverbial about this picture?

*Image from Unsplash
Photographer: Andrea
Leopardi*

Add more fronted adverbials to your table